CONTENTS

No. 1

I. M. JOHANSSON: Butyronitrile as organic solvent in ion-pair extraction 1

I. M. JOHANSSON: Retention behaviour of amines in reversed-phase ion-pair chromatography with octyl sulfate and 1-pentanol in the eluent 9

B. LINDEKE, H. BRÖTELL, B. KARLÉN, G. RIETZ and A. VIETORISZ: Determination of oxybutynin (4-diethylamino-but-2-ynyl 2-cyclohexyl-2-phenylglycolate) in serum and urine by gas chromatography/mass spectrometry with single ion detection 25

N.-O. PERSSON, G. LINDBLOM, C. BOGENTOFT and C. APPELGREN: NMR diffusion measurement in polymeric membranes used for controlled drug release 35

Y. KANEO, C. SENTO, R. KINOSHITA and Y. KATO: Protein binding of non-steroidal antiinflammatory drugs. Part V. Effects of various drugs on the binding of naproxen to bovine serum albumin 45

A. SVARDAL, H. BUSET and R. R. SCHELINE: Disposition of [2-^{14}C] flavone in the rat 55

F. MORÉN: Studies on pressurized aerosols for oral inhalation 63

H. BRINK: Phase transfer and base catalyzed alkylation of carboxylic acids and alcohols for gas chromatographic determination 64

No. 2

J. SJÖGREN: Introduction to the symposium on tablet technology 66

C. FÜHRER: Compaction and consolidation of pharmaceuticals powders 67

A. B. van GROENOU: Compaction and consolidation of powders 68

J. E. REES: Deformation and fracture of pharmaceutical materials during the compaction process 68

T. M. JONES: The physico-technical properties of starting materials used in tablet formulation 71

A. W. HÖLZER: Evaluation and characterisation of tablet lubricants 72

R. HÜTTENRAUCH: Modification of starting materials to improve tabletting properties 73

B. W. MÜLLER: Polymorphism of magnesium stearate and the influence of the crystal structure on the lubricating behaviour of excipients 74

H. LEUENBERGER: Production of granulates — new techniques 76

O. WØRTS: Controlling granulate properties in fluid-bed granulation 77

P. C. RECORD: Use of instrumented intensive mixers in pharmaceutical production 77

H. SUCKER: Test methods for granulates 78

C. F. LERK, G. K. BOLHUIS, A. J. SMALLENBROEK and K. ZUURMAN: Interaction of tablet disintegrants and magnesium stearate during the mixing process before direct compression 80
H. GJELSTRUP KRISTENSEN: Homogeneity of low dose tablet formulations .. 81
D. N. TRAVERS, T. C. BUTTERY and M. al SHAMMAT: Die wall reaction and friction on compaction of some direct compression bases 81
K. MARSHALL: Instrumentation of tablet presses for research, development and production purposes 83
C. NYSTRÖM: Axial tensile strength of tablets 84
P. J. RUE: Tablet toughness 85
J. M. NEWTON: The mechanical strength of tablets 87
B. M. HUNTER: Compression simulation in formulation development 87
J.-O. MAAK: Environmental aspects and production economy in tablet production 89
H. SEAGER: The choice of tablet manufacturing method 90
H. S. THACKER: New trends in the development of tablet presses 90
J. C. GUYOT, A. DELACOURTE-THIBAUT and M. TRAISNEL: Experimental planning design of rational tablet development work 91
C. B. BEYNON: Computerised production 92
P. PARONEN and M. JUSLIN: Compressional characteristics of some starches 93
K. KUSSENDRAGER, P. de HOOG and J. van LEVERINK: Some physical properties of spray-dried lactose with respect to stability and compression 94
J. MAZUR, C. NYSTRÖM and J. SJÖGREN: The influence of the particle size of a dry binder on tablet strength 95
A. JÆGERSKOU: Lubricant mixing test in high speed bowl mixer 96
K. MALMQVIST and C. NYSTRÖM: Some studies on the deagglomeration and adhesion tendency in powder mixing 97
G. ELMBORG, N.-O. LINDBERG and K. LÖVGREN: Granulation in a continuous mixer/granulator, Ivarson's Momentan mixer 98
R. F. SHANGRAW and J. W. WALLACE: SEM study of the role of morphology on the functionality of pharmaceutical tabletting excipients 99
P. HOLM, O. JUNGERSEN, H. G. KRISTENSEN and T. SCHÆFER: Granulation on intensive mixers 100
H. NYQVIST, A. BRODIN, B. CEDERVALL and M. NICKLASSON: Measurement of flow properties of tablet granules with ring shear cell 100
G. ALDERBORN and C. NYSTRÖM: The effect of particle shape on the mechanical strength of tablets 101
N.-O. LINDBERG, L. LEANDER and C. J. LAMM: Granulation of lactose in a recording domestic-type mixer 102
D. DUCHÊNE, S. HENRY, B. LEGENDRE, C. SOULEAU and F. PUISIEUX: Solid dispersions 103
H. VINTER: An alternative apparatus for aqueous film-coating 104
M. JUSLIN, P. PUUMALAINEN and A. SOTHMANN: Elimination of the torque effect in measurements of compressional forces on rotary tablet machines 105
J. W. KENNERLEY, J. M. NEWTON and P. STANLEY: Tablet thickness variation and machine stiffness 106

M. DUBERG and C. NYSTRÖM: Methods for the estimation of particle fragmentation during compaction 107
K. LÖVGREN and C. BOGENTOFT: Influence of different disintegrants on dissolution rate and hardness of furosemide granules prepared by spheronization technique 108

No. 3

A. BERLIN-WAHLÉN, H. EVERS, G. HAEGERSTAM and E. VINNARS: Systemic absorption of ketocaine following epicutaneous administration 113
M. NICKLASSON, A. BRODIN and H. NYQVIST: Studies on the relationship between solubility and intrinsic rate of dissolution as a function of pH 119
H. BUNDGAARD and M. JOHANSEN: Pro-drugs as drug delivery systems. Part XVIII. Bioreversible derivatization of allopurinol by N-aminomethylation to effect enhanced dissolution rates 129
S. MIYAZAKI, T. YAMAHIRA and T. NADAI: Effect of bile flow on indomethacin absorption in rats 135
A. W. HÖLZER and J. SJÖGREN: Evaluation of some lubricants by the comparison of friction coefficients and tablet properties 139
P. BERNTSSON: The use of orthogonal coordinates and selection of variables and groups in quantitative structure-activity relationships. 1-(9-Phenanthrenyl)-2-(N-alkylamino)ethanol antimalarials reinvestigated 149
G. SAMUELSSON, L. BORSUB, A. L. JAYAWARDENE, L. FALK, S. ZIEMILIS and Ö. NILSSON: Screening of plants of the families Loranthaceae and Viscaceae for toxic proteins. Part III. 179
D. DEKKER and J. H. BEIJNEN: The C-16 methyl group orientation influences alkaline anaerobic decomposition of the dihydroxyacetone moiety of corticosteroids 185

No. 4

K.-E. KARLSSON and P. HARTVIG: Two-phase derivatization of tertiary amines. Part II. Influence of thiocyanate and halide ions on reaction rate and product pattern 193
A.-M. TIVERT: Extractive alkylation of organic acids. Part IV. Kinetic studies on the influence of adduct formation on the alkylation of phenolate ion pairs 205
S. EKSBORG, H. EHRSSON, I WALLIN and A. LINDFORS: Quantitative determination of adriamycin and daunorubicin — handling of blood and plasma samples 215

P. BERNTSSON and R. E. CARTER: Determination of the conformation of felodipine by ^{1}H NMR spin-lattice relaxation time measurements 221
J. A. OWOYALE and S. S. SZINAI: 3-(¹²⁵I)Iodo-5-cholestene: rationale for its development as a potential adrenal scanning agent 227
G. TEIEN, G. A. ULSAKER and J. E. PETTERSEN: Synthesis of metabolites of 2-(4-isobutylphenyl)propionic acid (ibuprofen) 233
P. CHEN-CHOW and S. G. FRANK: Comparison of lidocaine release from Pluronic F-127 gels and other formulations 239
R. DAHLBOM, B. ERBING, K. GRUNDSTRÖM and U. MERESAAR: Acetylene compounds of potential pharmacological value. Part XXXIV. 4-tert-Amino-2-butynoic acid amides 245
F. HATTAB: Stability of fluoride solutions in glass and plastic containers 249
W. ROLFSEN: Phytochemistry and pharmacology of some African Strychnos species 253
M. JOHANSSON: Studies on reversed phase ion pair chromatography with a dynamically coated adsorbent 254
R. HANSSON: Cytochrome P-450 in the biosynthesis and metabolism of bile acids 255
A. W. HÖLZER: Studies on lubrication and friction during tabletting 256

No. 5

L. HACKZELL and G. SCHILL: Quantitation of non-UV-absorbing ions by ion-pair chromatography. Part I. Quaternary ammonium ions straight-phase systems with naphthalene-2-sulfonate as counter ion 257
L. HACKZELL, M. DENKERT and G. SCHILL: Quantitation of non-UV-absorbing ions by ion-pair chromatography. Part II. Organic and inorganic anions in straight phase systems with N,N-dimethylprotriptyline as counter ion 271
B. BERGSTRAND and L.-O. SUNDELÖF: Kinetic features of the aminolysis of formanilide and p-chloroformanilide in water solutions in the presence of imidazole 283
L. NORDHOLM and S. H. HANSEN: Quaternary ammonium compounds formed from benactyzine in methylene chloride 299
H. NYQVIST, M. NICKLASSON and P. LUNDGREN: Studies on the physical properties of tablets and tablet excipients. Part III. Water sorption and its effect on hardness and disintegration 305
H. HELLBERG, P. HOLMQVIST and S. VALLÉN: On the use of infrared reference spectra for identification of drug substances in pharmacopoeia monographs 315
P. EDMAN: Acrylic microspheres in vivo. The use of immobilized enzymes in microparticles 319
G. HALLSTRÖM: Metabolism of α-acetylenic amines. Chemical and biological studies 320

No. 6

A.-M. TIVERT and S. LILLIEBORG: Extractive alkylation of organic acids. Part V. Regulation of the alkylation rate of 2,6-dichlorophenolate by the aqueous phase concentration of quaternary ammonium ion 321
A.-M. TIVERT: Extractive alkylation of organic acids. Part VI. The effect of water present at the alkylation of 4-nitrophenolate in dichloromethane 331
K.-E. KARLSSON and P. HARTVIG: Two-phase derivatization of tertiary amines. Part III. Electron capture gas chromatography of azapetine and N,N-diethyl-2-naphthylmethylamine after derivatization with alkyl chloroformates 337
N. Å. JÖNSSON, T. KEMPE, L. MIKIVER, K. GAHLIN and B. SPARF: Pharmacologically active derivatives of geminally dialkylated indenes and indans. Part III. 2-Amino-1-(1,1-dialkylinden-3-yl)ethanol derivatives — potent alpha adrenergic agonists 349
F. ARADI and A. FÖLDESI: A ^{1}H NMR study on self-association of caffeine and theophylline 373
A. ABD ELBARY, J. J. VALLNER and C. W. WHITWORTH: Binding of xanthine derivatives to human serum albumin as a function of pH 379
A.-M. TIVERT: A kinetic study on the extractive alkylation of phenols 391
B. MELLSTRÖM: Formation of active metabolites by demethylation and hydroxylation of tricyclic antidepressants in man 392
